CLIENT CONSULTATION GUIDE

Welcome to Ambra Ink

This book is designed to help you understand your options before making a treatment decision. During your consultation, we will listen to your goals, evaluate the treatment area, discuss realistic outcomes, and design a personalized plan.

1 PRECISION

Every design is planned around your features, skin tone, hair pattern, and desired level of change.

2 TRANSPARENCY

You will receive clear information about limitations, healing, maintenance, pricing, and alternatives before treatment.

3 PERSONALIZATION

No two treatment plans are identical. Pigment, placement, density, and session count are selected for you.

OUR CONSULTATION PROMISE

You will never be pressured into treatment. We will explain what is achievable, identify concerns that require postponement or medical clearance, and make sure you approve the design before any pigment is applied.

CLIENT CONSULTATION GUIDE

Your Consultation Journey

1 LISTEN

Your goals, concerns, lifestyle, and preferred level of change.

2 ASSESS

Skin/scalp condition, treatment history, color, texture, and candidacy.

3 DESIGN

Mapping, shape, density, placement, and pigment strategy.

4 PLAN

Sessions, timing, investment, preparation, and aftercare.

5 APPROVE

Questions answered, informed consent completed, final plan confirmed.

Bring inspiration photos if helpful, but expect a design tailored to your anatomy and coloring - not a copied template.

CLIENT CONSULTATION GUIDE

Scalp Micropigmentation

Scalp Micropigmentation (SMP) is a specialized cosmetic tattoo technique that deposits tiny impressions of pigment to create the visual appearance of closely shaved hair follicles or added density between existing hairs.

IMPORTANT

SMP does not grow hair and does not replace medical treatment for hair loss. It creates a cosmetic illusion of density or a shaved-hair appearance.

SMP MAY HELP

- Create a defined or softly broken hairline
- Reduce visible contrast in thinning areas
- Blend selected transplant or surgical scalp scars
- Create a clean, closely shaved appearance

DESIGN CHOICES

- Hairline shape and degree of softness
- Follicle size, spacing, and direction
- Pigment value and undertone
- Density by zone and future maintenance

NATURAL RESULTS ARE BUILT GRADUALLY

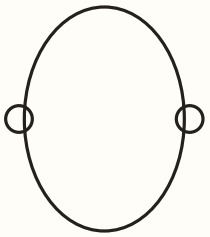

Layering over multiple healed sessions allows density and darkness to be adjusted conservatively.

CLIENT CONSULTATION GUIDE

SMP Mapping + Design

Mapping establishes balance before treatment. The goal is a believable hairline that fits your facial structure, age, existing hair, and long-term maintenance plan.

WHAT YOU APPROVE BEFORE PIGMENT

- Hairline height, shape, and edge softness
- Temple balance and transition into existing hair
- Treatment zones and planned density

The diagrams above are educational illustrations, not a universal mapping template.

CLIENT CONSULTATION GUIDE

Pigment + Density Planning

A natural result depends on more than choosing a 'hair color.' We plan for the client's skin undertone, existing follicle value, treatment zone, healed appearance, and gradual fading over time.

01

SKIN UNDERTONE

Warm, cool, neutral, and surface redness are evaluated.

02

HAIR + FOLLICLE VALUE

The target is the visual value of a shaved follicle - not the color of long hair.

03

HEALED EXPECTATION

Fresh pigment can appear darker before it settles and softens.

04

LAYERING STRATEGY

Density is developed in controlled passes instead of one heavy application.

05

ADJUST + MAINTAIN

Healed results guide later refinements and future touch-ups.

Pigment formulas are recorded for consistency. Exact color matching cannot be guaranteed because skin tone, healing, sun exposure, and pigment retention change over time.

CLIENT CONSULTATION GUIDE

Your SMP Treatment Plan

3 sessions | 1-2 weeks apart

A fourth session may be added when necessary after healed progress is evaluated.

1 FOUNDATION

Establish the approved shape, create the first conservative layer, and observe how the skin accepts pigment.

2 DENSITY

Review healing, reinforce the treatment zones, and build a more complete transition.

3 REFINEMENT

Balance density, soften or strengthen selected areas, and complete final details.

WHAT HEALING MAY LOOK LIKE

- The treatment may initially appear darker or more defined.
- Temporary redness, dryness, or light flaking may occur.
- Color can soften as the skin settles; retention varies by client.
- Final evaluation occurs after the skin has healed enough to assess the layer.

CLIENT CONSULTATION GUIDE

Scar Camouflage

Paramedical scar camouflage uses custom pigment to reduce color contrast between a suitable mature scar and the surrounding skin. It changes the appearance of color contrast; it does not remove scar tissue or flatten texture.

1 A SUITABLE SCAR IS USUALLY

Fully healed, closed, stable in color, relatively flat, and free from active irritation. Medical clearance or a test spot may be requested.

2 TREATMENT MAY NEED TO WAIT

If the scar is raised, red, painful, itchy, changing, recently treated, infected, or still actively healing.

CONSULTATION FOCUS

- Scar age, cause, location, color, and texture
- History of keloid or hypertrophic scarring
- Skin tone changes with sun exposure or tanning
- Realistic degree of blending and maintenance needs

Best results come from reducing contrast - not promising that a scar will become invisible.

CLIENT CONSULTATION GUIDE

Vitiligo Camouflage

Vitiligo camouflage is a specialized cosmetic tattoo service intended to reduce visible contrast between stable depigmented areas and the surrounding skin. It does not treat vitiligo or stop progression.

1 STABILITY

The area should be stable rather than actively changing or spreading. Medical input may be appropriate.

2 TEST SPOT

A small test may be used to evaluate color, healing response, and pigment retention before broader work.

3 MAINTENANCE

Sun exposure, tanning, skin changes, and pigment fading can alter the match over time.

REALISTIC EXPECTATION

The goal is a softer visual transition, not a permanently exact match in every season or lighting condition.

TREATMENT IS POSTPONED WHEN

- The skin is open, inflamed, infected, sunburned, or actively changing.
- Candidacy or medical history requires further evaluation.

CLIENT CONSULTATION GUIDE

Candidacy + Safety Review

A consultation is a screening step, not a guarantee of treatment. Your answers help us determine whether to proceed, modify the plan, request clearance, or postpone.

1 GOOD FOUNDATIONS

Healthy, intact treatment area
Stable condition or mature scar
Realistic expectations
Commitment to aftercare
Willingness to complete staged sessions

2 REASONS TO PAUSE

Active rash, infection, or open skin
Recent procedure or incomplete healing
Uncontrolled medical concern
History requiring medical clearance
Expectations the service cannot safely meet

PLEASE DISCLOSE

- Allergies, skin conditions, medications, and recent procedures
- Pregnancy or nursing status, immune conditions, and healing concerns
- History of keloids, pigment reactions, or previous permanent makeup

Never stop a prescribed medication unless your prescribing clinician instructs you to do so.

WHAT SMP CAN DO

SMP can reduce scalp-to-hair contrast and create a fuller visual impression. Results depend on hair pattern, skin, pigment choice, placement, and healed retention.

ILLUSTRATIVE RESULTS

Scar Camouflage Example

Scar camouflage can soften a color difference while leaving the underlying scar texture present. A healed result may remain visible at close range or under certain lighting.

Frequently Asked Questions

WILL IT LOOK NATURAL?

The plan is customized and built conservatively. Natural appearance depends on anatomy, color, technique, healing, and maintenance.

HOW MANY SESSIONS WILL I NEED?

SMP is planned as three sessions 1-2 weeks apart, with a fourth when necessary. Other services vary by area and healing.

IS IT PERMANENT?

Cosmetic tattoo pigment is long-lasting but can soften, shift, or fade. Maintenance may be needed.

DOES CAMOUFLAGE REMOVE A SCAR OR VITILIGO?

No. It reduces visible color contrast; it does not remove tissue or treat the underlying condition.

CAN YOU MATCH MY COLOR EXACTLY?

A close match is the goal, but skin color changes with lighting, sun, tanning, circulation, healing, and time.

CAN I SEE MY DESIGN FIRST?

Yes. Mapping and key design choices are reviewed for approval before pigment is applied.

WHAT IF I AM NOT A CANDIDATE?

Treatment may be postponed, modified, or declined. Medical clearance or another provider may be recommended.
